BigBlueButton supports live (closed) captioning

BigBlueButton supports live captioning during a session - faculty members can enter captions for a selected language during the class and BigBlueButton will display those captions, in real-time, to other students. After the session is finished, the captions will appear as subtitles in the recordings.