Decide what you're going to do about any high-stakes assessments, particularly exams. There are no easy answers here, especially if you planned to have a good chunk of a student's grade hinge on what would have been a proctored, in-person test. Perhaps you could take another route to summative assessment for the course, such as replacing a big supervised test with some type of project that is easier to personalize and less dependent on proctoring.

You also could use online proctoring, McNeese offers two test proctoring solutions: Respondus and ProctorU. This knowledgebase has several articles to help you set up both in Moodle. Simply use the search toolbar to find the articles.
